	I strongly object to allowing 3-storey buildings in any part of Oamaru, but particularly in the historic (and hilly) South Hill area. What is to stop anyone building a 3-storey home for one family? This policy does not address any housing shortages, but does seek to limit sunshine/daylight, views and green spaces to individuals. Considering the population of the Waitaki District has only grown by a few thousand over many years, why the push to introduce this kind of accommodation? -- Janette McKenzie [REDACTED]
